

Student Resource: Internet and World Wide Web

The Internet

The Internet is a global system of interconnected computer networks (internetwork) that link several billion devices worldwide. It is a network of networks that consists of millions of private, public, academic, business, and government networks, of local to global scope, that are linked by a broad array of electronic, wireless, and optical networking technologies.

Source: <http://www.cs.utexas.edu/~mitra/csFall2013/cs329/lectures/webOverview.html>

Source: TedEd